The Best of No B.S. The Ultimate No Holds Barred Anthology Lee Milteer Interviews Dan Kennedy

Wealth Magnet 1: Remove Inhibitions to Wealth Attraction

A big impediment to attraction of wealth is the idea that the amount of wealth floating around to be attracted is limited. If you believe it's limited, then you believe that each dollar you have came to you at someone else's expense—your gains are another's loss. If you can make every last smidgen of belief that wealth is limited go away, your attraction of wealth will suddenly, automatically, go from modulated, limited, and suppressed to full power. Opportunity, money, and wealth will quickly flow to you in greater quantities and at greater speed than you've ever before expected.

The queasiness about price, about whom someone is selling to, about their ability to pay, their ability to afford it is all deadly. And the truth is, anytime you start to make those decisions for other people, it really reflects more about what's going on internally with you than it does with anything else.

Wealth Magnet 2: Unequivocal Belief in Abundance

It is time to immerse yourself—even if it is virtually—in the amazing wealth that is in the world around you. Invest in some of the top wealth magazines that you can find on homes, jewelry, cars, boats—whatever interests you—and review these magazines imagining what it would be like to partake in this lifestyle. Keep in mind we are self-fulfilling prophecies and that you have to condition your mind before you can accept these wealth magnets as natural in your life. Go to fancy restaurants and if nothing else at least order an appetizer and feel the luxury that can be yours if you change the level of abundance you are willing to create for yourself.

Don't Buy What the Bad News Mongers Are Selling

Beware the news media. For some perverse reasons of their own, the mainstream media constantly underreports good economic news and over-hypes bad economic news. It is a huge, huge, huge mistake for you to accept the mainstream-media-biased, liberal-agenda-driven misrepresentation of the state of the economy or the amount and level of opportunities in this country—at any time.

Speak Money

Most people speak lack, poverty, inadequacy, doubt, and fear. You have to be careful about the vocabulary you use because every single word—thought, spoken, or written—if inner directed, constitutes programming instructions to your subconscious mind. Pay attention to the language that you're using on a regular basis not only to yourself but your team, your family, your friends, and everyone around you. Take an honest look at where you're sabotaging yourself and reinforcing beliefs that cause stress, strain, and lack in your life. As Dan Kennedy often says, "Make no mistake, what you speak matters. And you can and will attract more wealth easily by speaking the language of wealth."
